Due to a fortunate purchase of Tobacco Canvas since the settlement of the strike in the cotton mills at Lowell, Mass., we are able to offer Tobacco Canvas at same price as obtained in the Spring of 1903, when we set the mark for low prices for Canvas in this section. Buying direct from the mills--saving all middle men's profits, we have shaved our own profits to a mere fraction--and throw out 150,000 yards at

- 1c for fair quality,
- 1c for good quality,
- 1 1-2c extra good quality,
- 3c for fine quality,
- 3 1-3c for very best quality.

CAUGHT NEAR KELLY

Was One of Parties Who Escaped From Jail.

Otho Armstrong, the boy who was in jail at Madisonville awaiting the time to be sent to the House of Correction, and who escaped from the prison with several others last Thursday night, was apprehended near Kelly, this county, Sunday night, by the sheriff of Hopkins county. Armstrong says the deed occurred early in the night, that he and Laws, the alleged forger, came at once to Earlington, where the latter took "blind baggage" on No. 54, for the west and he made his way to the home of a relative near Kelly.

SIX SPEECHES

The following gentlemen will make speeches: Rev. Edmund Harrison, Prof. H. Clay Smith and Messrs. Geo. E. Gary, John Stites, Frank Sives and Thos. C. Underwood. The President to be elected at the regular April meeting will preside as guestmaster.

CAPT. WHITE RESPONDS TO LAST CALL.

Ripe in Years He Passed Away Early Yesterday Morning.

BURIAL AT HOPEWELL.

Was a Native of Virginia and Came to This County in Boyhood.

Capt. Samuel R. White died at his home near Julien at three o'clock yesterday morning, of a complication of ailments. He had smallpox in December and while he recovered from that disease, he has never been able to be up since. There was a general break-down, owing to his extreme age, and his death had been expected for some weeks.

Capt. White owed his title to the fact that he was for many years captain of the Christian County Hunting Club when it was made up of a dozen or more such hunters as Austin Peay, J. R. Caudle, C. F. Jarrett, J. S. Parrish, P. B. Pendleton and others. He was born in Louisa county, Va., Mar. 2, 1821, and came to this county when he was a boy and settled with his father near Garrettsburg. In his early manhood he moved to Julien and in the course of time became owner of one of the finest farms in the county. He prospered in his business and leaves a handsome estate. When the railroad was built near his place he opened a store at the new station of Julien and had since been the head of the firm of S. R. White & Co., his son-in-law, Mr. J. E. Gossett, being the junior member of the firm.

Though not a church member, he was benevolent and charitable in his dealings and enjoyed the respect and esteem of all with whom he came in contact.

He leaves a widow and three children, J. C. White and Miss Lizzie White, of Julien and W. H. White, of Guthrie. Another daughter, the wife of Mr. Gossett, died a year ago.

The funeral services will be held at the Christian church in this city, at 11 o'clock this morning, conducted by Eld. H. D. Smith.

Interment in Hopewell Cemetery.

FELL ON ICE.

Accident Resulted in Death of Former Kentuckian.

Enos Harned, an aged citizen, formerly of the Fairview neighborhood, died a few days ago at Palmyra, Tenn. His death was indirectly the result of an accident several weeks ago. While walking about his farm during the icy spell he slipped and fell, sustaining injuries, which, on account of his advanced age, proved fatal. He was born near Fairview, but went to Tennessee in early life. He was 76 years old and was esteemed as one of the leading men of his community.

MOVED IN.

Jailer Boyd Takes Possession of New Jail.

The new jail was formally occupied Wednesday by Jailer Jno. Boyd and his family. The 22 prisoners confined in the old jail were transferred to the new building and the old jail is now for rent for other purposes. The new prison is one of the handsomest in the State.

The Trigg county authorities are gradually getting the smallpox situation under control and the threatened quarantine is being held up.

IN DEATH GRAPPLE,

Are the Two Armies In And Around Mukden and Test of Endurance May Decide It.

GENERALLY BELIEVED THAT KUROPATKIN IS FIGHTING TO COVER A RETREAT BEYOND THE PASS AND THAT HE IS ALREADY DEFEATED.

DEEDS OF HEROISM ON BOTH SIDES.

To surround and destroy General Kuropatkin's army at and below Mukden, to seize and fortify Tie Pass, thus preventing Russian escape to the northward and when this is done to move on northward to Harbin, there cutting the main line of the Siberian Railway and isolating Vladivostok, insuring the early fall of that city into the hands of the victors, is the Japanese military programme, as it is outlined in dispatches received at the Japanese legation in this city to-day.

The tenor of the dispatches is such as to indicate the confidence of the government at Tokio that the programme is about to be carried out and that the end of the war is in sight through the destruction of the last prop that remains under the Russian empire, which is Gen. Kuropatkin's army of more than 300,000 men. Marshal Oyama's objective throughout all this campaign along the Shalke has been Tie Pass. He cares little or nothing about the possession of the ancient city of Mukden. He is capable at best of housing but 30,000 or 40,000 troops. But the Pass is the key to the whole strategic position. It is not a narrow defile through the mountains, yet it is not so broad but that it admits of fortification so effectively as to bar the way of a retreating and beaten army. The Japanese are rushing for Tie Pass, and if they can gain possession of it they will destroy Kuropatkin's communications and have him surrounded. With his line of supplies cut off, he must soon run short of ammunition and be compelled to surrender. On the other hand, if the Russian commander can break through with all or the major part of his army, to the northward of Tie Pass lies an open plain where on an enveloping movement would be vastly more difficult if not impossible. In case the Russian forces can reach this plain the war must be indefinitely prolonged.

It is apparent that the greatest success of the Japanese advance now lies with Nogi, who, supported by Oku to the southeast, is pressing to within four miles of the town of Mukden in parts of his line. But even here the advance is not general in character. It is evident that the Japanese generals find themselves confronted by most skillfully placed fortifications, which may counterbalance their numerical superiority and hold them without further advantage for some days. In the center the operations of both armies are most obscure, by reason of the fact that the country is badly broken, and outflanking operations by both sides are succeeding one another rapidly, compelling swift changes in all the formations.

Losses Unknown.

For ten days the Japanese and Russian armies in Manchuria have been engaged in mighty conflict, the issue of which has not yet been reached. Although the most of the news from the scenes of the battle comes through Russian sources, and consequently, may be supposed to present the facts in an unfavorable light as possible for Russian arms, it is evident that the Japanese made some gains Tuesday.

St. Petersburg has an unofficial report that Gen. Kuropatkin's center has been broken, and that thirteen siege guns have fallen into the hands of the Japanese. These guns, which are of six and eight-inch caliber, were given permanent emplacements on the line of the railroad north of Shalke station, the fact evidencing the confidence of the Russians that the Japanese could not penetrate thither.

In St. Petersburg it is generally believed that Gen. Kuropatkin was Tuesday fighting a rear guard action to cover his retreat, and that Wednesday night will have witnessed a large withdrawal of troops toward Tie Pass. All of the Commander-in-Chief's ability, it is considered, will be required to extricate his army from its present predicament.

The issue, it is expected will be decided today, and a great deal unquestionably depends upon the comparative ability of the opposing armies to resist the effects of hunger and fatigue, the limit of human endurance having evidently been nearly reached on both sides.

Beyond the statement that the casualties exceeded those of the battle of Liao Yang, there is little known as to the number killed or wounded.

SELFISHNESS CLARKSVILLE'S LONG SUIT.

Disposition to Hog Things May Defeat a Great Movement.

BUSINESS MEN REBEL.

Our Tennessee Neighbors Should Go Slow If Desires of Success.

The Kentuckian is thoroughly in sympathy with the Farmers' Tobacco Association and would not say or do anything to throw a single obstacle in the way of the complete success of the movement.

There is a growing feeling of discontent in Hopkinsville, particularly among business men, over what seems to be a selfish desire of Clarksville to turn the movement to her own advantage, regardless of the business claims of Hopkinsville, Paducah and Mayfield, all cities of equal importance. The Tobacco District consists of about fifteen counties, all but three or four of them in Kentucky, and bankers and business men who are encouraging the farmers' movement are slow to understand why Clarksville is pushed to the front, situated on one edge of the District in a different State from that raising the bulk of tobacco, and permitted to pose as "head-quarters" and the only place where samples can be collected and sold.

The Clarksville Leaf-Chronicle has heard of the trouble threatened as a result of this "sharp practice" or "hogchiness" as the case may be and the following extracts are taken from that paper of Tuesday:

"Disensions are painful under all circumstances and hurtful to those concerned in an organization like the Farmers' Association if tolerated or countenanced by the members of the organization. Our Hopkinsville

CARE OF BIG GAME

WINTER SCENES ON AN EASTERN PRESERVE.

Mrs. Timely Advice from Ernest Harold Baynes—Price of Success Lies in Management, He Declares.

The price of success in the management of a game preserve is continual, careful and intelligent forethought. I am constantly reminded of this fact as I note from week to week the work which goes quietly along in the Blue Mountain forest, commonly known as Corbin Park, near Newport, N. H., the largest fenced game preserve in America. To tell of the work which is done in the course of a year inside the 35 miles of fence which marks the boundary of the vast inclosure, would take much more space than is allotted to this article.

With the first heavy snow fall in November came the question of feeding those animals which would soon be unable to find sufficient food for themselves. The deer, elk and wild boar were all right for the present; they were not dependent upon food which grew upon the ground, and which was now buried beneath the snow, and moreover they were fat and in unusually fine condition owing to the heavy crop of apples on which they had been feeding for many weeks. But the buffaloes depend largely on the food they can get upon the ground, and besides these animals are now too rare for any chance to be taken with the finest herd in the world. Down in the southeastern part of the reservation, in an enclosure known as Central station, or "Central," large yards have been made as winter quarters for buffaloes, and here, once the animals are rounded up, it is a comparatively simple matter to feed them. But 24,000 acres is a large place, and buffaloes are not given to taking orders from anyone, so it is not the easiest thing in the world to persuade them to seek a particular part of the preserve and allow themselves to be shut up in buffalo yards. However, it is well known that buffaloes once started along a trail which they have been over before are very apt to stick to that trail unless there is some good cause for their leaving it.

So, when one day about the first of January, the men who had the work in hand, surrounded the main buffalo herd on a plain in the northwestern part of the park, they gently urged them towards the entrance to a trail, and into this the animals turned. Five miles away the trail reached a point to which a farm wagon had been driven, and when the buffaloes arrived they found a little hay waiting for them. They quickly ate it, and just beyond there was a little more, and a little more beyond that again. The hungry animals walked along, picking up the hay as they went, and naturally enough, after they had traveled thus for ten miles, they found themselves at nightfall on the other side of the mountain, and about five miles from the buffalo yards. Here in some open fields they halted for the night and the men who had surrounded them went home. On returning early the next morning they found most of the buffaloes picking up a scanty meal from patches of bare ground to be seen here and there, but two cows with their well-grown calves were missing. They were overtaken five miles away.

In the meantime the main herd was urged and led quietly along to a large inclosure known as No. 2, whence they were easily driven into the buffalo yards. Here they were taken in charge by William Morrison, expert in the breeding and handling of buffaloes, and he divided them into groups according to their age and sex. In the first yard were placed all the calves of the previous spring; in the second, a number of old bulls; in the third, young bulls and heifers, and so on through seven or eight inclosures.

Each buffalo shed has a lot in which the hay is stored, and from which it can be tossed down into racks below. Each full-grown buffalo eats about three tons during the winter, each calf consumes about half a ton, and his allowance of hay increases about half a ton a winter with each succeeding year until he reaches maturity. In the winter the animals will be provided for until May, when the entire herd, including the cows with their young calves, will be turned loose to wander at will over the great preserve, and to shift for themselves until the snow storms of next December again cut off their natural supply of food.

sons for expecting better prices. Besides, full confidence as to the final outcome, may be based upon the wise conclusion of the farmer to prize and put his tobacco in condition to hold for the best demands, only to be found on the open markets. The force of combines, who have ignored open markets in order to fix lower prices in the country is broken, and we predict an era of greater prosperity will come to tobacco growers. The farmers will not regret the move they have made, and the more compact their organization, the greater their influence.

Seventy Thousand Acres.

The State of Idaho will throw open for public entry, on March 25, seventy thousand acres of irrigable land under the Twin Falls Canals. This is the third opening of 140,000 acres having been previously opened and so generally taken up that it was decided to extend the area. The state will also place on sale twelve thousand acres of school lands on March 25 in the same tract. The Twin Falls tract borders the great Shoshone or Snake river in the northern part of Calfornia and is the largest on Western Continent under one irrigation system. The land is sold at 30 cents an acre by the state and the perpetual water rights cost a total of $25 an acre, the payments extending over ten years. The soil is a fine lava ash, very productive and the home market takes all that can be produced. All Idaho in on the Pacific slope and the climate is mild in winter and not oppressive in summer. The altitude is less than 4,000 feet. Inquiry about these lands may be made at the office of the State Land Board at Twin Falls, Idaho. A new railroad is now being built by the Oregon Short line, into the heart of the tract.

Twin Falls city was opened August 29 last and now has about 1,000 people. It was estimated that it would take 15 years to develop the tract, but it will take less than three. Any person 21 years of age or over may take up not to exceed 170 acres. Most of the people come from other irrigated states, but a number of colonies have come from the East. As high as 75 bushels of wheat to the acre were raised last season, other crops, including fruits, in proportion.

ST. MARK'S IS CRUMBLING.

Noted Church of Venice Must Have New Foundations, Says Report of Expert.

The report of Prof. Manfredo Manfredi, the eminent architect, and Signor Luigi Marangoni, the engineer, on the condition of St. Mark's shows a alarming state of affairs, says the Kansas City Journal.

It confirms the statement that the fall of the Campanile two years ago was a blessing in disguise, as it called attention to the Venetian antique monument of art.

The greatest danger to St. Mark's is in the foundations, which have been constantly giving way in divers directions. All the walls show such cracking and weakening that it leads to the conclusion that under the magnificent dress of marble and mosaic is concealed the most alarming decrepitude.

So bad is the condition of the vaults, called the Paradise and the Apocalypse, that their complete and definite restoration is absolutely necessary. It is a miracle that they maintain their equilibrium.

The dome and the choir claim the most immediate and radical measures, as does also the great dome. Both are out of place and show fissures.

Restoration will have to be made of the walls and decorations almost everywhere to preserve intact their artistic and antique value.

Apart from the work necessary to rebuild the foundations, it is estimated that the cost of restoration will be $30,000, part of which is already in the hands of the administration of the Basilica, who have not always spent the whole of the $10,000 provided yearly by the government for the upkeep of St. Mark's.

St. Mark's is one of the famous churches of the world. Mr. Ruskin was enraptured with the beauty of its coloring—"the color of glass, of transparent alabaster of polished marble, and lustrous gold." The church was first built in 829, and frequently remodelled thereafter, and enriched with decorations of lavish magnificence. It has 500 marble columns.

ATTRACTION IN LUNATICS.

Eccentric Hermit Found Food for Study in Mental Instability—Observation a Factor.

The late Dr. Leroy M. Taylor, the eccentric hermit and orientalist of Washington, devoted some years of his early life to the study of insanity, and he would sometimes discuss insanity in an interesting way, says the Los Angeles Times.

"Obstinacy, invincible obstinacy, is a phase of insanity that attracts me," he said, one day. "I have often tried with all my ingenuity to drive their delusions out of the heads of obstinate lunatics, but I have never succeeded in this. The obstinate lunatic is always cleverer than I."

"I once knew an insane chemist who declared that he was dead. I said to him: 'Now, sir, you know you are not dead. Why not admit it?'"

"I admit nothing," said the chemist. "I am dead."

"Dead men," said I, "don't bleed. Their blood doesn't circulate. Will you let me cut you slightly by way of an experiment so as to see whether you bleed or not?"

"How deep would you cut?" the lunatic asked, gruffly.

"Oh, a mere scratch," I answered. "A scratch would suffice."

"Here, then, go ahead," said he, and he turned back his sleeve and bared his forearm.

"I made a slight incision, and blood, of course, flowed instantly from the wound."

"There," said I, "you bleed. That proves you are not dead."

"Not at all," returned the obstinate lunatic. "It only proves that dead men can bleed."

The President Tuesday sent to the Senate the nomination of the negro Charles W. Anderson, for the New York Second District International Revenue Collectors. The appointment came in the nature of a surprise to the New York Senators, only one of whom was in his seat. They have consented to the appointment, but a strong protest will be made. The negro's appointment will be confirmed, as the Democrats are willing for the north to have its own experience with negroes in office.

George B. Cortelyou Tuesday took the oath of office as Postmaster General. No other changes were made in the cabinet. Mr. Cortelyou will resign as Chairman of the Republican Committee and be succeeded by Vice Chairman Harry S. New, of Indianapolis, who will become the acting chairman of the committee.

The fight for Mayor of Chicago is waxing warm. Harlan, the Republican candidate, is on the stump and Judge Dunne, the Democratic nominee, has employed a substitute on the bench and will get into the fight for the next three weeks.

The chief of police of East St. Louis has offered $100 reward for each safe blower killed in the act of blowing open a safe. Burglaries are of almost nightly occurrence.

"LAST OF THE CONFEDERATES."

John H. Reagan, the last member of the Confederate Cabinet, died in Texas this week.

He went to Texas in 1869, and in his life, says the Chicago Record-Herald, and he served under three flags, had honored and been honored by the people in whose cause he was as valiant in war as he was wise in peace, and finally, in the fullness of years and achievement, passed to his eternal rest.

Born in Sevier county, Tennessee, October 8, 1818, and dying at his home at Palestine, Texas, March 6, the activities of John Henninger Reagan furnish an inspiration to all Americans. In the Republic of Texas he fought in many campaigns against the Indians. In the State of Texas he served the commonwealth as colonel of its militia, justice of the peace, sat in its legislature and upon the bench. Then he went to Congress and was counted one of the ablest members of the House, which he left in 1861 because he believed it his duty to cast his fortunes with the confederacy.

Under the stars and bars his was high political preference. First Postmaster General of the Confederate States of America, he relinquished that post to become secretary of its treasury, devoting his energies and his fortune to a cause he loved and fondly hoped might prevail. But when the fortunes of war decreed that the southland should not depart the Union, and while a prisoner of war, this man undertook the work of calming sectional hatred, and finally returned to his people to advocate conciliation and unity.

Ripe in experience, he again became a legislator of the nation, serving as a senator from 1887, until 1891, fathering the "Reagan interstate commerce law," which as afterward amended by Senator Cullum, of Illinois, became the law which is now in force.

Pioneer, surveyor, lawyer, soldier, legislator, jurist, statesman, patriot, honest gentleman, John H. Reagan, true to himself and false to no man, leaves upon the scroll of fame a name which adds luster to the glory of the country.

He is survived by a widow and several daughters.

Grand Duke Vladimir has again been notified that he may expect to be killed at any time.

BIBLICAL DRAMA

Possessing a Fascination Particularly Its Own.

Compensation for the management and for the success of this company presenting "The Holy City," Gordon & Bennett have, with this season's production, excelled in theatrical success. In the great Biblical drama, "The Holy City" there is combined such a wealth of action, allegory, music and spectacle as has rarely if ever been seen. The possibilities for dramatic effect, with which the dramatic narrative of John the Baptist abounds, have been utilized with great skill and apparently unlimited cost. The acting company is noted for its integral brilliancy; the scenes present history in radiant splendor, the stage paraphernalia all of which is carried by the company, being of impressive beauty. The integrity of the management first called public attention to the play, its matchless performances are carrying those endorsements which honesty of purpose and skillful design command. The presentation of "The Holy City" here next Tuesday night, March 14, will be eagerly anticipated.

CUT HIS THROAT.

Will Hays Uses His Knife On Pete Laub.

An affray took place near the corner of Virginia and Sixth streets about 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, in which Pete Laub was cut twice by Will Hays. A long gash was made on the left side of Laub's neck and the rear of his left arm was also slashed, both being ugly wounds, from which blood flowed freely, until sewed up by Dr. Woodard, who was called to attend the injured man. Both parties were taken to police headquarters. Hays was held to circuit court by Judge Knight on a charge of cutting in sudden heat and passion and Laub on a charge of assault and battery. The latter was permitted to go on his own recognizance and Hays furnished bond in the sum of $100. As the grand jury is in session the matter will probably be investigated at once.

Engaged people should remember, that, after marriage, many quarrels can be avoided, by keeping their digestion in good condition with Electric Bitters. S. A. Bennettsville, S. ## CHAS. FINCH GETS A LIFE SENTENCE.

Jury Brings In a Verdict Early Yesterday Morning.

CARNEY NOW ON TRIAL.

The Other Two Will Likely be Tried Also at This Term.

Charles Finch, number six in rotation, gets a life sentence this time for the part he played in the Pembroke murder. According to his own testimony, he was to remain in the road while the others murdered the stranger a little distance from the roadside. He claimed that he ran away when he found the sleeping man was being killed instead of robbed, but the jury evidently believed that Finch was guilty with the rest of the gang. The case went to the jury Saturday and the final agreement was reached in time to be handed in early yesterday morning. At his former trial Finch was given a death sentence and that he escapes this time with an unbroken neck is due largely to the eloquent speech made by attorney John Feland in his defense.

The Carney Case.

Dick Carney, one of the condemned men given a new trial by the Court of Appeals, was put on trial Monday. The usual course was followed and a special venire of 75 men was summoned, out of which the following jury was made up Tuesday morning:

J. W. Alexander, John Wynn, L. B. Hamby, J. V. Boyd, H. F. Boyd, Dennis Durham, Emmett Roper, J. C. Duke, W. R. Barnes, R. H. Baker, J. W. Gresham and J. E. Taylor.

Carney is defended by Robt. Lander, the colored attorney, while the prosecution is assisted by Judges James Breathitt and Charles H. Bush. According to all reports, Carney was one of the ring-leaders and richly deserved the sentence given him before.

In addition to the confessions of several of the men, Chas. Finch and Ed. Moseley both testified Tuesday afternoon that they saw Carney creep upon the sleeping man with four others of the gang and assist in the actual murder. One strong point in the circumstantial evidence was finding a $1 bill on Carney's person when he was arrested the man had a bill of this denomination around his roll of money when he showed it in a saloon a few hours before he was killed. It is believed that the money taken from Carney was one of the stranger's bills, for which the murder was committed.

The defendant went on the stand and attempted to prove an alibi, but there was nothing beyond a general denial. He claimed that he stayed with a friend that night, but failed to introduce the friend. The defense was very weak.

The case was argued by Robert Lander and Judge Bush and submitted at the noon adjournment yesterday.

The court ordered a jury summoned for Friday morning to take up the case of Frank Merriweather, the last but one of the gang. Ed Moseley, the ninth, is out on bond. The Mack Her murder case was set for next Saturday.

SELFISHNESS CLARKSVILLE'S LONG SUIT.

friends seem to be laboring under some grave misapprehension, or serious error, if reports coming from that quarter are correct. It is said that the business men of our sister city are very much aggrieved and disappointed over the action of the Executive Committee of the Farmers' Tobacco Association in selecting the general salesman from Clarksville, but more chagrined because of the designation of Clarksville as the point for the collection of type samples, for classification, etc."

Then follows a lengthy argument against the trust. We are all opposed to the Tobacco Trust, but it is unnecessary for us to form a Clarksville Trust in order to carry out the purposes of the organization.

Our neighbor continues: "The success of the movement will bring from two to three million more money in the district than the last crop fetched. This money will be divided with the trade of the two places in proportion as the people choose their trading place, and Hopkinsville has not been hurt, but benefited by the organization, for they will receive both the full share of the patronage in business and also more tobacco for pricing and storage, than otherwise under the trust rule."

We would call the attention of all interested to the fact that it was contention or rivalry between Louisville and Cincinnati that led indirectly to the defeat of the Burley Growers' Organization, and if the farmers of this section are wise they will lend no comfort to such a complaint from any quarter, but follow the action of their leaders, who have been faithful and true, and accomplished the most wonderful feat in organization known in history."

On the other hand it is important that the leaders at once amend their rules and lend proper "comfort" to every city in the district whose banks are helping to finance the movement, in order to avoid just what happened at Cincinnati. Clarksville may be strong in her own conceit, but we doubt if she be strong enough to urge a committee believed to have been organized with its weather eye on Clarksville to "lend no comfort" to those who do not like the agreement.

We give the Leaf-Cronicle's own explanation of why Clarksville was made "headquarters."

"Now in regard to the selection of Clarksville as the most suitable place for concentrating the type samples for classification. The committee was controlled by the same high motive of doing the best they could for the farmers, with no regard whatever for the material interests of the town. It was first contemplated to collect these types at Guthrie. That purpose was defeated for want of a suitable building. It was found that a splendid house for the purpose could be had in Clarksville on very reasonable terms. Then it was also demonstrated that the greater bulk of the tobacco would come here because of the facilities for pricing and storing. It was reasoned also that it was well to profit by the example of the enemy. The Regie people bought and prized tobacco all over the country and then shipped 12,000 hogheads here to get the Clarksville brand on it and cheaper shipping rates out of the Clarksville inspection being better known in Italy and all foreign markets. However this may be, the committee had to concentrate these samples somewhere, they could not go to the woods for such business."

We can't see that Hopkinsville has anything to gain by antagonizing the Executive Committee in this matter. Our neighbors should have taken hold in the start, as the Clarksville people did and helped the farmers of Christian county organize. Now the thing for Hopkinsville to do is to go to work, like the Clarksville people are doing, help the farmers and get the tobacco you can handle for your pricing and storage houses. This is all that this town can get out of it. Later than first helping the planters to get plenty of money for their tobacco. Disunion now helps the trust, and must hurt those who engage in such tactics."

This is, we admit, a plausible explanation and we agree with Mr.

WOMEN WHO SUFFER

Listen to What Dr. Hartman Proposes to Do for You Without Charge.

Doubtless hundreds of thousands of women all over the United States have seen Dr. Hartman's offer in the papers—how he has undertaken to treat every woman suffering with any form of female disease who will write to him, free of charge.

To those who have not heard of this it may be said that Dr. Hartman is a physician and surgeon of great renown in medical circles, especially in the treatment of those diseases which women alone have to bear.

He has arranged to answer all letters that are sent to him from women troubled with any form of female weakness, free of charge, giving the benefit of knowledge which has cost him forty years to accumulate.

The medicine he prescribes are what get them at any drug store. All she is required to do is to send her name and address, together with her symptoms, duration of sickness and age.

Miss Muriel Armitage

of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Mrs. Senator Bosch, of Larimore, N. Dak.; Mrs. Senator Warren, of Cheyenne, Wyo.; Belva Lockwood and Mrs. General Longstreet, of Washington, D. C., are among the prominent ladies who endorse Peruna.

Miss Helen Roloff, Kaukauna, Wis., writes: "Several times during the past two years or more my system has been greatly in need of a tonic, and at those times Peruna has been of great help in building up the system, restoring my appetite and securing restful sleep."

Miss Muriel Armitage, 36 Greenwood Ave., Detroit, Mich., District Organizer of the Royal Temples of Temperance, writes as follows: "I suffered for five years with nerve irregularities, which brought on hysteria and made me a physical wreck. I tried doctors from the different schools of medicine, but without any perceptible change in my condition. In my despair I called on an old nurse, who advised me to try Peruna, and promised good results if I would persist and take it regularly. I kept this up for six months, and steadily gained strength and health, and when I had used fifteen bottles I considered myself entirely cured. I am a grateful, happy woman to-day."

Miss Lucy M. Riley, 28 Davenport St., Cleveland, Ohio, writes: "I wish to add my indorsement to thousands of other women who have been cured through the use of Peruna. I suffered for five years with severe backache, and when weary or worried in the least I had prolonged headaches. I am now in perfect health, enjoy life and have neither an ache or pain, thanks to Peruna."

"If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis."

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

Barbade in the conclusions drawn and do not take the matter up now to create dissensions, but to urge that the committee make such changes in its regulations as to sales will give proper regard to the rights of all concerned. There is no reason why samples should not be collected at every city used as a storage center and let there be a friendly rivalry between all as to which can control the most tobacco. There are plenty of empty warehouses in all of the cities—thanks to the Regie Trust—and if we could see them all filled once more with tobacco it would look like old times and would be an object lesson to the farmers all over the district. The buyers could very easily go from city to city and buy where the tobacco was stored.

There seems to be no good reason why Clarksville should be made the only anti-trust tobacco market for Kentucky tobacco and if this is insisted upon, the rule or rule policy is quite likely to most seriously affect the prospects of a movement that has been brought to the verge of success by the efforts of a leader who does not happen to be a citizen of Montgomery county.

Clarksville must come down from her high perch, and let us all do business on the same footing.

NEXT FAIR.

The Big Exposition to be Held in Oregon.

The Lewis and Clark Exposition will be held at Portland, Oregon, from June 1 to October 1, 1905. It will commemorate the hundredth anniversary of the exploration of the Oregon country by an expedition of 30 soldiers commanded by Captains Merriweather Lewis and Wm. Clark and planned by President Jefferson. The Oregon country comprised all of the present states of Oregon, Washington and Idaho and parts of Montana and Wyoming, an area of 300,000 square miles. This was the only territory acquired by the United States by discovery. The 13 original states were wrested from England by war. Louisiana, Texas and Alaska were purchased. Hawaii was annexed, Porto Rico and the Philippines acquired by war and diplomacy. A. W. Goode will be Director General and H. W. Scott President of the Exposition. It will occupy 400 acres and will represent an expenditure of $5,000,000. There will be 10 exhibit palaces, surrounded by state, territorial and concessions buildings. The United States Government building will cost $250,000.

My limbs were swollen badly and I was troubled with an affection of the heart also, all coming as I suppose from kidney trouble.

I had tried several kidney remedies with little result, not satisfactory.

I asked Mr. Doremus, the druggist who handles your goods here and he recommended your Kidney and Backache Cure saying he had sold it for several years very successfully.

I took 4 bottles and the swelling has all gone from my limbs and my heart trouble completely cured.

GREAT BARGAIN PERIOD.

Big Clearance Sale at Church Hill Begins Saturday.

Realizing that he will need much room for spring goods, which will shortly arrive, Mr. J. M. Adams, the well-known Church Hill merchant, will inaugurate a grand clearance sale. This sale will commence next Saturday, March 11, and continue about two weeks. Hundreds of large posters are being circulated, announcing the sale and giving a partial list of the many articles of merchandise to be offered. Mr. Adams announces that he will offer many bargains to his customers and the public generally.

His son, Mr. Eli Adams, who has charge of the business, has just returned from the markets, where he purchased largely for the approaching season. These goods will be arriving in a few days and their big sale to be put on this week to make room, will doubtless be a great success.

In Memory

OF DARNBY W. STEWART, WHO DEPARTED THIS LIFE MARCH 4, 1905.

The subject of this piece was born in the State of Georgia on the 9th day of February, 1846. He came to this country with his parents when only two years old, where he lived until his death. He was married to Miss Helen Harlow in 1870, who with seven sons and two daughters is left to cherish the memory of a well spent life.

He was a loving and affectionate husband, kind and gentle father; honest and upright in all his dealings, and a useful man in the vicinity in which he lived. He was always ready to minister to the wants of the poor and to sympathize with the unfortunate.

He had been in bad health for some time and his death was due to a complication of diseases. His remains were taken to the Lander burying ground near Gracey for burial.

To the bereaved wife and children and friends we would say, weep not for him, for he has gone before to make Heaven brighter and more attractive for you. S. E. E.

CRUMBAUGH PLACE.

Purchased by Dr. C. B. Petrie and May be Used as Sanitarium.

Dr. C. B. Petrie has bought the Crumbaugh property on Seventh and Clay streets owned by J. M. Starling. The price paid was a little less than $6,000. Dr. Petrie bought it as an investment and is considering the establishment of a sanitarium, provided he can secure proper encouragement from the city. The building is a large brick family mansion containing ten or fifteen rooms, with frontage on three streets.

Gives Bond as Receiver.

The Planters Bank and Trust Company, of Hopkinsville, has given bond as receiver in the case of Robert McClelland and others against Theodore Troendel and others. The property which goes into the hands of a receiver consists of a large farm in Christian county and certain houses in Hopkinsville. A suit for the adjustment of the estate is pending in the United States district court. It is one of the most complicated suits ever filed in an Owensboro court, covering in its details the life time of three generations.—Messenger.

TO FARMERS!

I have fitted up the Fullerton tobacco house on East 4th Street, near Consumer's Ice Factory, with all modern equipments and am prepared to handle tobacco to the best advantage possible, and would be glad for those who have tobacco to be prized to write or telephone me. Liberal advances on tobacco in store.

Contractor for the Dark District Planters' Protective Association.

Prison Commission.

Frankfort, Ky., March 7.—The State Prison Commission met this morning in regular monthly session, Col. Harvey McCutcheon, of Russellville, whom Gov. Beckham named as the successor of James M. Richardson, presented his commission and met with members Fennell and Green.

HEART FAILURE

Caused the Death of Mrs. Amanda Phipps.

Mrs. Amanda Phipps, widow of the late W. W. Phipps, died Monday evening at the home of her son-in-law, Mr. Robert Brown, from a sudden attack of heart failure. She was 66 years of age and a member of the Christian church. She leaves four daughters, Mrs. James Phelps, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Hurt and Mrs. Bradshaw, and also two sons by a former marriage, James and Louis Western. Funeral services were held at Mr. Brown's Tuesday afternoon. Interment in Hopewell cemetery.

MODERN WOODMEN

Dark Tobacco Planters.

W. H. Jesup & Co., with the Cooper and Hooper printing houses, have made a contract with the Dark Tobacco Association to prize tobacco for the farmers. Having employed the most competent men to class and prize, we will endeavor to prize your tobacco to the best advantage, and we take this plan of soliciting your patronage. Remember, good prices are dependent upon tobacco being properly handled. Sort your tobacco carefully as to length and color, separate the lugs from the leaf, let the long and short be carefully separated and do not put different colors in the same bundle. Put it in good keeping order. Stick to your organization, tell your neighbors about it, send us your tobacco to prize and you will realize much better prices than you have for many years past. Liberal advances on tobacco in store.

Respectfully,

W. H. Jesup & Co., Hopkinsville, Ky.

SURPRISED FRIENDS.

Walter Ezell Takes Into Himself a Wife.

Lafayette, Ky., March 7.—Mr. Walter Ezell, of Clarksville, and Miss Kate Ellett, of Clarksville, were married in the latter place yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. The marriage was quite a surprise to the groom's many friends. He had been visiting the young lady for some time, and left here Sunday for another visit, his friends supposed, no one here knowing that he had any idea of marrying so soon.

Mr. Ezell is a son of Mr. Joe C. Ezell and is about twenty-two years old. He has been clerking in Joiner & Ezell's store for some time and is quite popular with everyone. His bride is a niece of Mrs. R. L. Fuqua, of Clarksville, with whom she made her home, her parents being dead. She is only about eighteen years of age and is very pretty and highly accomplished.

K. OF P. TO-NIGHT.

Members of Evergreen Lodge No. 38, Knights of Pythias, are requested to meet at their lodge room to-night at 7:30 o'clock, this being the night for the regular meeting of the lodge. A full attendance is desired. Degree work on hand. Visiting brethren in the city are most cordially invited to be present and meet with us.

Fraternally,

Strike Caused Hardship.

The strike of the employees of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company in New York proved extremely inconvenient to the public Tuesday. The insufficiency of transportation was felt with peculiar hardship when the crowd sought to return home after working hours downtown. In many instances there were mad rushes for the infrequent cars and dangerous jams occurred, scores of women fainting and many minor injuries being received.

1905. Binders! 1905.

We Are Agents for Two Standard Binders,

Deering and McCormack

There are other heaps of wood and iron in the shape of binders, but as BINDERS there are only TWO such machines, the DEERING and the MCCORMACK.

Last year you heard a good deal about an anti-trust binder. This year you won't have the pleasure of hearing a thing on this subject, for they are all in one company, or trust, as some competitors say—the Osborne as well as all others. So come and get your binders from us, they are standard machines.
